Live Chat with Support within Rialto

Now Available

The screenshot displays the Rialto ProQuest interface. The top navigation bar includes 'Market', 'Keywords', and a search bar containing 'wizard writing'. On the right side of the top bar, a red circle highlights the live chat icon. The left sidebar contains navigation links: Alma, Market, Acquisitions, Admin, and Analytics. The main content area shows search results for 'Market (1 - 20 of 43)'. The results list includes:

- 1. Wizards Code Writing Kit (Hardback)
- 2. Wizard Ks1 Writing Revision (Paperback)
- 3. Wizards Code Writing Kit by Tomic, Tomislav (English)
- 4. Wizard Notebook: (Wizard Journal, School, Composition Book, Log Book, Diary, Magic, Creative Writing, Poetry, 8.5 X 11, Large, Ruled) by Cottage, Creative Writing (English)
- 5. Wizard Creative Writers - Essay Writer : Lessons in Writing for the Secondary Classroom by Thomas, Marian (English)
- 6. Alphabet Writing (Preschool Edition)

On the right, a live chat window is open with the contact 'Rialto'. The chat history shows a 'Chat Ended' notification at 4:59 PM, followed by a message from 'Alon B' at 5:00 PM: 'It should be available according to my records.' The user responds with 'I can't see it'. The agent replies 'Ok.' and 'We will investigate and get back to you through the case.' The agent then provides the case number: 'Your case number is 00895332. You will be able to see it on your support portal's cases.' The user responds 'Thank you!' at 5:01 PM. The agent replies 'You welcome' at 5:01 PM. The chat ends with the message 'Chat Ended by Agent'. At the bottom of the chat window, there are buttons for 'Close Chat' and 'Save Transcript'.

Talis Aspire Integration with Ebook Central

How ProQuest Helps

- For many academic librarians reading lists are central to supporting teaching and learning, especially in regions such as Australia, Canada, Ireland, Norway, United Kingdom, and more.
- Academic librarians purchasing in these regions commonly use Talis Aspire (Reading List application) as a tool in their purchasing workflow.

By integrating our Ebook Central metadata into Talis Aspire, we create a friction-free purchasing workflow for Talis Aspire and Ebook Central customers.

Talis Aspire Integration with Ebook Central

Talis Aspire is a reading list application, which consolidates course resources for students.

- This integration will support librarians purchasing for reading lists.
- Customers in UK, Australia, Ireland, Norway, and Canada.

The screenshot displays the Talis Aspire web application interface. The top navigation bar includes links for Home, My Lists, My Bookmarks, Reviews, Admin, Reports, and a user profile for Zena Amos. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column shows a list of resources, including 'Acquisitions Supplier API - Demo' and several books like 'Internet of Things' by Hassan, Qusay F.; Khan, Atta ur Rehman; Madani, Sajjad A., 'History Highway' by Trinkle, Dennis A.; Auchter, Dorothy; Merriman, Scott A.; Larson, Todd E., and others. Each book entry has a 'NEW' badge. The right column displays details for the selected book 'Internet of Things', including its Type (Book), Date (2017), Place of Publication (Philadelphia, PA), ISBN13 (9781498778534), Authors (Hassan, Qusay F.; Khan, Atta ur Rehman; Madani, Sajjad A.), Publisher (Taylor & Francis Inc), and Date Added (06/11/18). Below this, there are sections for 'Student numbers' and 'Note for library', and a table of available formats and alternatives.

Preserving Access to Dawson Ebooks

Dawson Books, one of the U.K.'s leading academic and professional library suppliers, announced it was permanently shutting down its Dawsonera ebook platform July 31, leaving all the platform's content inaccessible.

“ProQuest responded to the situation very efficiently...it was all done on a clear timetable and very calmly. “They were able to match a substantial number of titles and make them available on Ebook Central seamlessly. Queries and non-standard requests were handled quickly by ProQuest, who also provided updates and relevant spreadsheets in a timely way. ‘Downtime’ for transferred titles was kept to a minimum and therefore did not affect our users in any significant way.”

CS1: Customer Satisfaction 1st Priority

Your Success is Our Success

CDI: Ensure you're upto date

Dear All,

We are pleased to provide you with another CDI update highlighting adoption and conveying additions and changes to the Knowledge Center and Alma.

The rollout and adoption by Primo customers continues to be strong. 533 institutions are now live with CDI, with 371 previously using Primo Central and 162 being new to Primo. Many more institutions will be going live in the coming months and we will start with the CDI enablement of the SFX customers in August. If you haven't started to prepare yet, we encourage you to review the Your Move to CDI – Getting Started knowledge article in the Knowledge Center.

Additional knowledge articles to support your move to CDI are now available in the CDI section of the Knowledge Center, which features a new layout. Here is a list of recently published new articles and some changes:

- A new article was published to explain CDI search and ranking features
- A new article about managing collections for discovery on Alma with the EasyActive setting was published
- The four articles, Alma rollout plan, Alma rollout schedule, SFX rollout plan and SFX rollout schedule were consolidated into two articles: Rollout Schedule and Plan for Alma Customers and Rollout Schedule and Plan for SFX Customers

We have added a NEW status to the Idea Exchange platform. You may have seen this on the various listserv groups, but we would like to emphasize that this is relevant for the Content Forum as well.

The new "Accepted" status will enable us to indicate that we have decided to ingest this content but have not determined the release date (as opposed to the "Planned" status where we can indicate a more specific timeline).

For more information, please see our updated FAQ.

UNDER REVIEW

41 Ideas are currently under review.

As you know, this process can be lengthy as we need to contact vendors, test, review and analyze the content before we can include a new collection/database in our enhancement plans. We highly appreciate your patience.

In preparation for next year, we encourage you to take note of our Knowledge Articles tracking the status of annual collections being added to Alma, 360 and SFX. These articles will be continuously updated as we make progress obtaining and ingesting this content.

We would also like to promote the CDI Tips and Tricks Knowledge Article for our community members who have transitioned to CDI. We hope this resource will be helpful to you, as our teams continue to work very hard to respond to support cases and queries as well as update the documentation.

Creating a leading learning and innovation ecosystem that delivers:

An outstanding and inclusive educational experience

Our students are at the heart of our University: their educational experience engages, challenges and empowers them to reach their full potential. Through highly innovative approaches to education, and in delivering a consistent experience across all our campuses and partners, we will become an educational leader whose benchmarked student outcomes consistently place us in the top quartile nationally.

To do this we will:

- systematically integrate the best of face-to-face and digital learning and teaching into all of our courses, providing an inclusive, stimulating and innovative curriculum which supports our diverse student population;
- combine data and our knowledge of individual students to personalise the student learning experience and support them to reach their full potential;

Transformative research and innovation

Our research and innovation draw on the breadth of ARU strengths to develop ideas and solutions which have the potential to transform lives and communities and enrich our curriculum. Over the life of this strategy we will deliver a step change in our research capacity to maximise its impact for the communities we serve.

To do this we will:

- focus our investment in people, infrastructure and our research institutes in key areas of international excellence and regional need, delivering research and innovation of outstanding quality and impact;
- build and develop stronger and more productive relationships with collaborators and stakeholders, including industry, public sector and businesses in areas linked to our research strengths;
- deliver a culture and working environment in which collaborative

Impactful and leading

The future research we engage communities in making economic, the cities and through wider regions

To do this we will:

- build : with b work : devel gradu future
- comn and e
- make resou region

Further enhancement to publication pages

- Latest issue contents are now shown directly on the publication page, with an enhanced issue picker.
- This replaces the previous 'Browse specific issues', removing the multiple clicks required before user could view any content from the publication
- A 'Copy URL' button is also provided to take away doubt about whether these page URLs are durable and can be bookmarked

OLD (Left): The layout is more cluttered. It features a 'Browse specific issues' section at the bottom with a list of year ranges (2020-2020, 2011-2019, 2000-2009, 1990-1999, 1989-1989) ordered by most recent issue. Above this is a 'Scholarly Journals' section with a cover image and a search bar. The main content area is partially obscured by a 'Back to publication search' link.

NEW (Right): The layout is cleaner and more modern. It features a 'Choose an issue to view' section with a dropdown menu for the year (2017), a dropdown for the month (December), and a dropdown for the issue (Winter 2017; Vol. 50 (4)). A 'View issue' button is next to the issue dropdown. Below this is the 'Issue contents (latest available): Winter 2017; Vol. 50 (4)' section, which lists three articles with their titles, authors, and page numbers. Each article has a 'Details' link and a 'Full text - PDF' link. A 'NEW' badge is visible in the bottom right corner of the new layout.

Both layouts include a 'Back to publication search' link at the top left and a 'Copy URL' button at the top right. The new layout also includes a 'Create alert' button and an 'RSS feed' button.

Molecular mechanisms of lymphatic invasion in pancreatic ductal adenocarcinoma

Naidoo, Kalnisha. Queen Mary University of London (United Kingdom), ProQuest Dissertations Publishing, 2012. U579639.

Abstract/Details

Abstract

Translate

Pancreatic Ductal Adenocarcinoma (PDAC) is one of the five leading causes of cancer-related deaths in the West, and this, largely, is due to metastatic disease. In order to better understand PDAC metastatic spread and identify novel therapeutic targets, we analysed the proteome of primary tumours and matched lymph node (LN) metastases. As frozen specimens of metastatic lesions are scarce, we examined formalin-fixed paraffin-embedded (FFPE) tissues. Whilst such tissue is in routine diagnostic use, the cross-linkages induced by fixation have, in the past, precluded proteomic investigation for research purposes. Recent technological advances have, however, overcome this technical limitation. Using laser capture microdissection (P.A.L.M system), we isolated malignant epithelia from seven FFPE primary PDAC tumours and matched LN metastases. Following dissection, samples were analysed in duplicate using Multidimensional Protein Identification Technology (MudPIT); this resulted in the identification of 1504 proteins, 854 of which were common to all samples analysed. Comparison of the obtained proteins with data from previous proteomics studies on pancreatic tissue, pancreatic juice, serum and urine resulted in a less than 30 % overlap, indicating that our study has expanded the current database of proteins expressed in this malignancy substantially. Statistical analysis further showed that 115/854 proteins (13.5%) were significantly differentially expressed (α -value ≥ 3.8). Two proteins.

Company Overview

Ford Motor is striving to build smart vehicles for a smart world. One of the "Big Three" automakers in the US (with GM and Fiat Chrysler), the company manufactures cars, trucks, and SUVs under the Ford and Lincoln brands. The F-150, the Lincoln Navigator, and the Mustang among its most popular models. Ford, which does business worldwide, is making significant investments in a strategic shift to move it from solely an automaker to a leader in vehicle technology and mobility services. In 2018, Ford said it would phase out nearly all of its car offerings, except for the Mustang, to focus on more profitable trucks and SUVs.

TDM Studio – Geographic Analysis Data Visualization

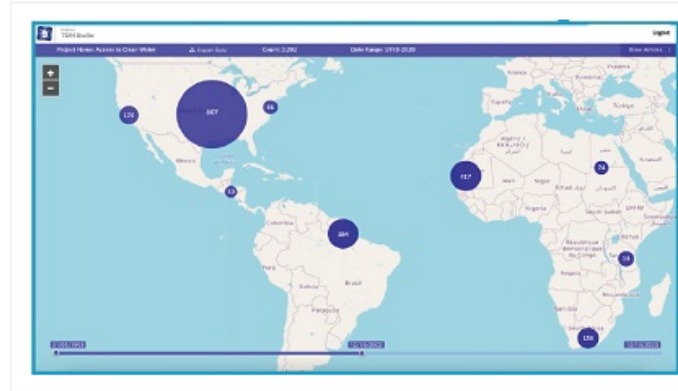

New TDM Data Visualization Interface Supports Research at all Levels

Users with and without coding experience can now use ProQuest's TDM Studio™ solution to identify trends, generate insights and make new discoveries

ANN ARBOR, MI, December 10, 2020 – Text and data mining (TDM) is now accessible to all researchers – even those without coding experience – thanks to a new visualization interface in ProQuest TDM Studio. The new interface enables TDM to extend beyond pure research and into teaching and learning by enabling students to explore large datasets.

Researchers and students across all academic disciplines can use the TDM Studio visualization features to quickly analyze massive volumes of data and spot trends and patterns. Powerful and insightful visualizations, beginning with geographic analysis, can be created in minutes instead of the hours it takes with other systems. An interactive display shows changes over time and allows users to dive into a specific cluster to explore trends in a geographic locale.

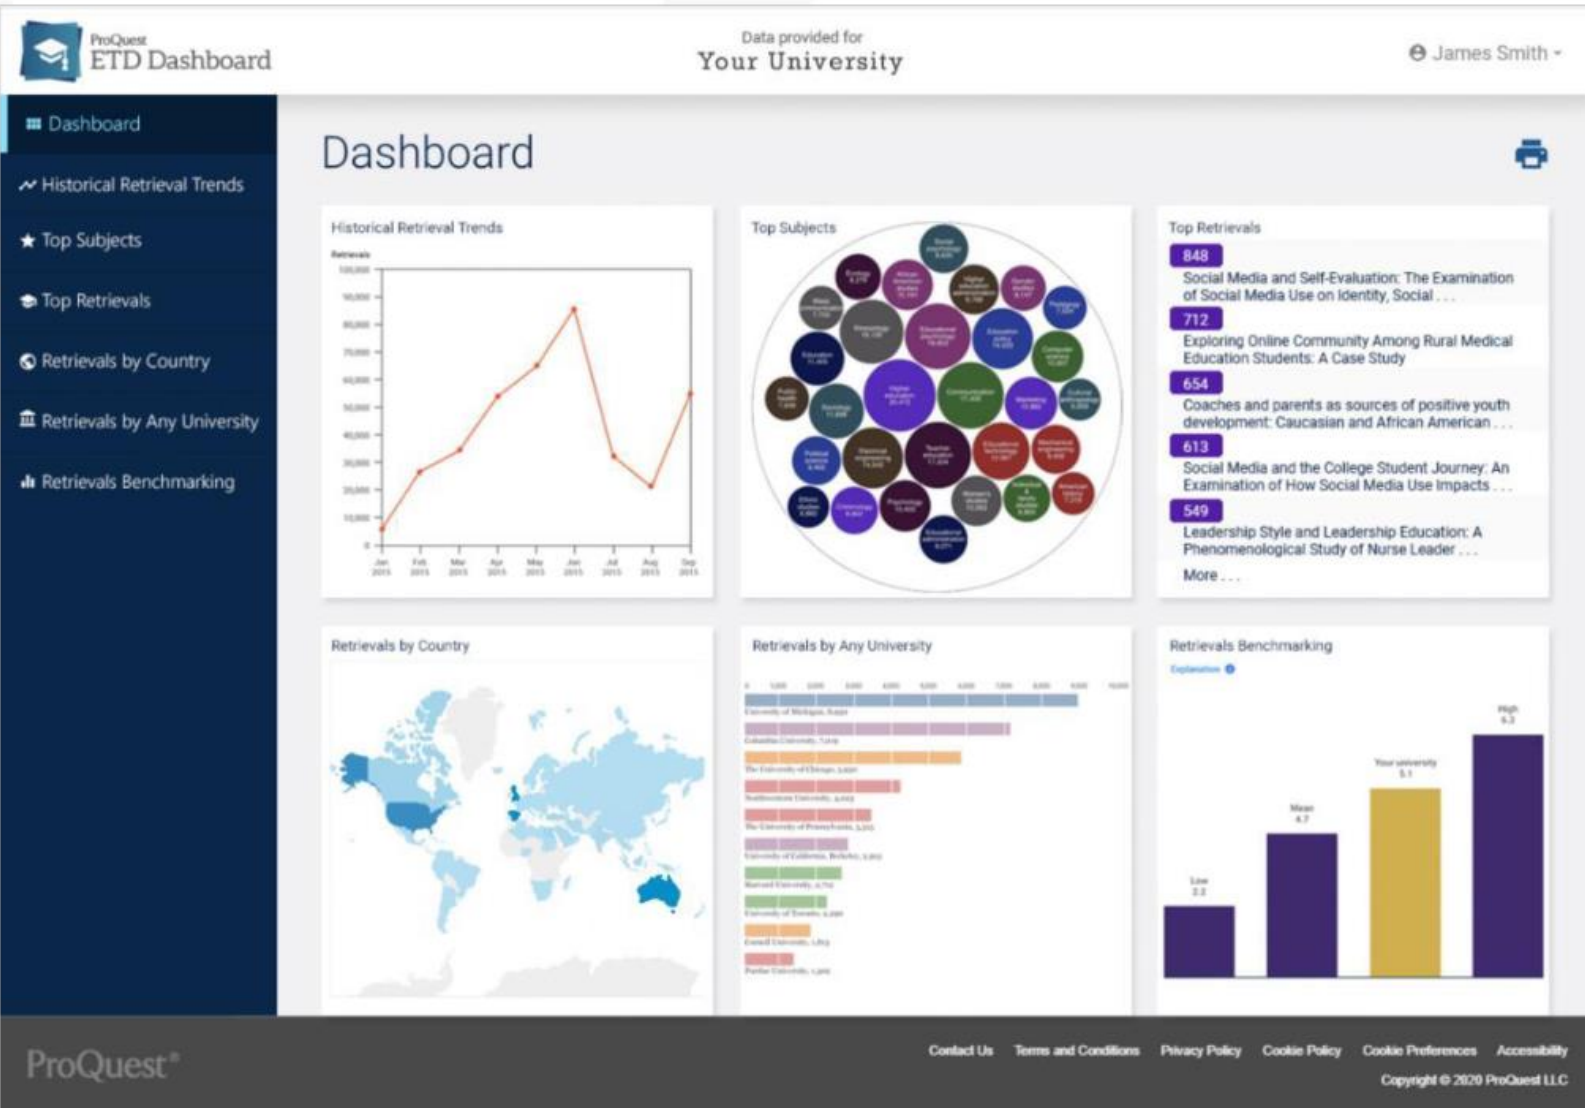

“ProQuest TDM Studio is an exciting and accessible platform for introducing students to the possibilities of text mining,” said Marco Duranti, Senior History Lecturer at the University of Sydney, whose university has been piloting the TDM Studio visualization features in a variety of courses and workshops. “The tool transformed how my students and I approached our exploration of human rights controversies in a historical perspective. It illuminated not only the transformational impact of data science on our field, but also the value of combining computational analyses with traditional humanities approaches.”

An Integrative Approach to Couples Therapy for Depression and Infidelity With an African American Married Couple
Dr. Shalonda Kelly integrates cognitive-behavioral, emotionally focused, multicultural, and family systems approaches in her work with a young, religious, African American married couple. The couple are seeking counseling due to strain in their relationship after the husband had an affair.

Engaging in Treatment: Integrative Behavioral Treatment Strategies for Pain Management and Opioid Tapering
Dr. Samantha Rafie works with an adult White female client who is working to taper her use of opioids to manage her chronic back pain. The client shares that she struggles to be engaged in her children's lives without being overactive, which would lead to an increase in her pain symptoms. The client also says that her symptoms have impacted her relationship with her husband.

Accelerated Experiential Dynamic Psychotherapy (AEDP) With a Client With Relationship Problems
Frederick begins therapy with a young Black adult client presenting with relationship problems. The client reports having been bullied as a child, and feeling rejected by a potential romantic partner who seemed to be pulling away from them. Frederick uses accelerated experiential dynamic psychotherapy (AEDP) to emphasize the importance of the client processing their anger, fear of being alone, and hurt feelings.

Setting the Stage: A First Session of Group Psychodynamic-Interpersonal Psychotherapy
In this initial session, Dr. Giorgio Tasca works with a group of four older adults to establish group norms and set the stage for group psychodynamic-interpersonal psychotherapy. Tasca begins the session by providing a rationale and discussing the general goals of group therapy. Then, each member introduces themselves, and shares briefly about their concerns and their goals for the group.

Health & Fitness Magazine Archive

With publications aimed at a male readership (e.g. Flex, Men's Health) and women's titles (e.g. Women's Health, Women's Health Activist), this collection supports research in topics such as the history of sex roles, body image, fitness/exercise, public health, food/nutrition, and medicine.

The backfile of Prevention (from 1950) offers over six decades of content reflecting contemporary developments in these areas.

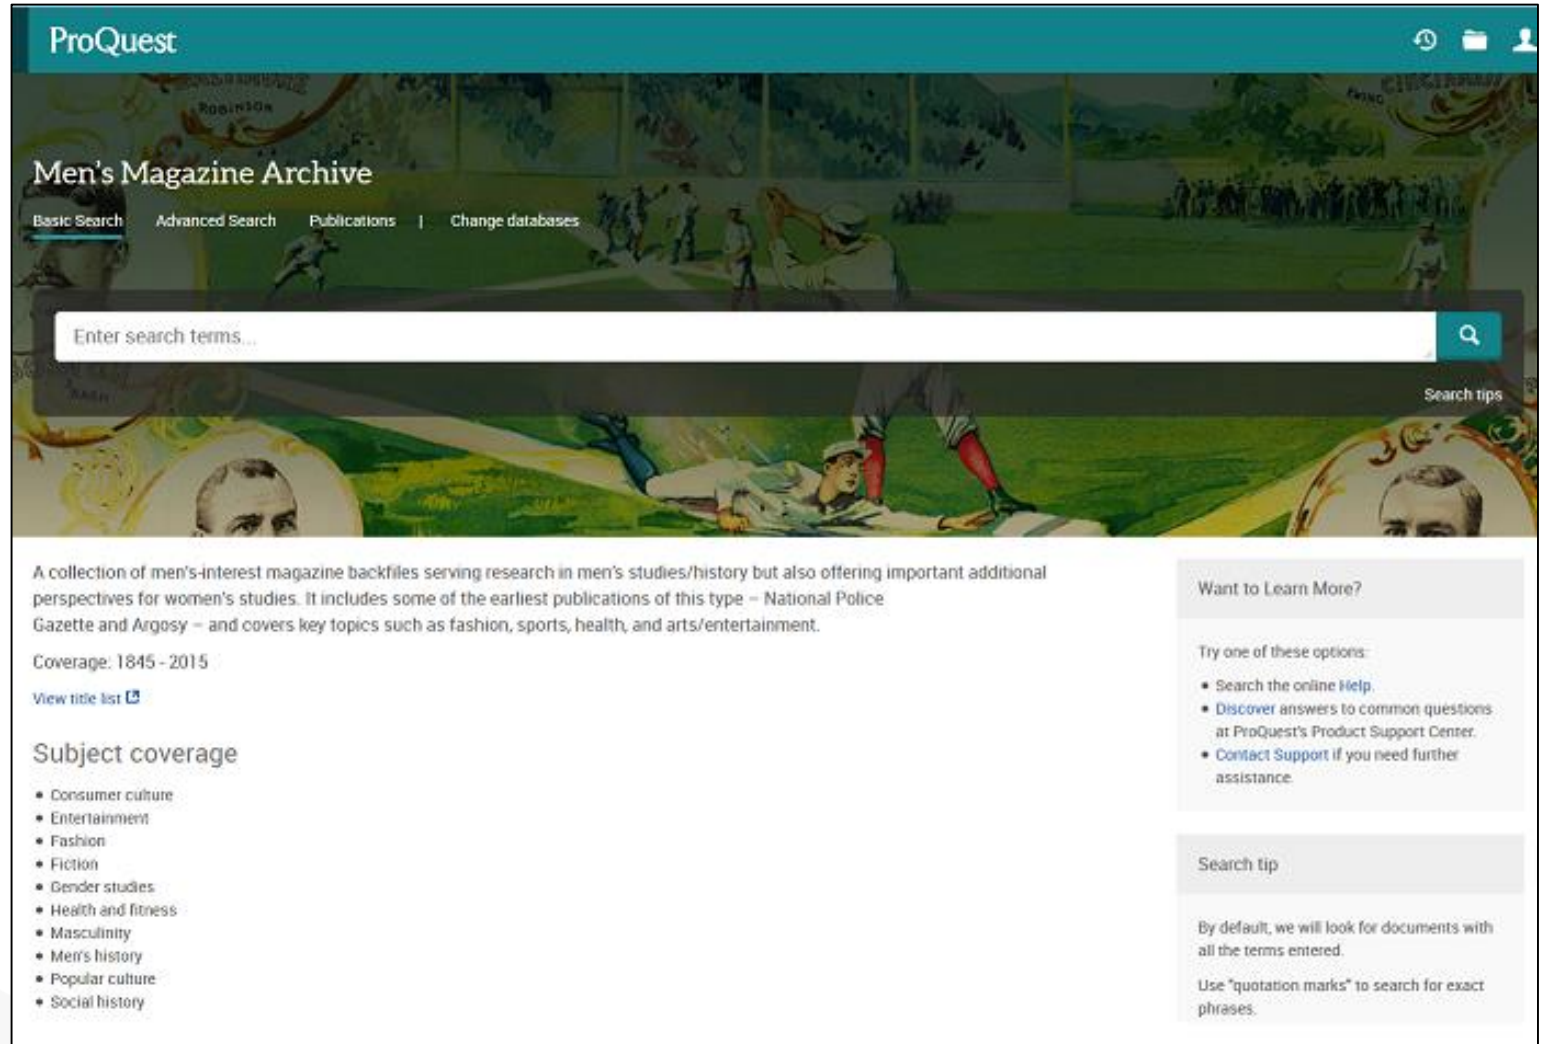

Men's Magazine Archive

Get digital access to the backfiles of six major US and UK men's-interest consumer magazines. Coverage is from the first issues and extends from the mid-19th century to the 21st. The archive offers researchers insights into contemporary issues and trends in history and society, masculinity, sex roles, literature, sports, fashion, popular culture / entertainment, and more.

This material is presented in full color page-image format, with article-level indexing and searchable full text.

Publications:

- All Sports Illustrated Weekly (1919 to 1930)
- Argosy (1882 to 1978)
- Esquire [UK edition] (1991 to 2015)
- M: The Civilized Man (1983 to 1992)
- National Police Gazette (1845 to 1977)
- Sports Budget (1923 to 1939)

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Men's Magazine Archive website. The header features the ProQuest logo and navigation links: Basic Search, Advanced Search, Publications, and Change databases. A large search bar with the placeholder text "Enter search terms..." is prominent. Below the search bar, a banner image depicts a man in a suit and hat, possibly a detective or a sports figure. The main content area includes a description of the archive: "A collection of men's-interest magazine backfiles serving research in men's studies/history but also offering important additional perspectives for women's studies. It includes some of the earliest publications of this type – National Police Gazette and Argosy – and covers key topics such as fashion, sports, health, and arts/entertainment." It also states "Coverage: 1845 - 2015" and provides a link to "View title list". A "Subject coverage" section lists various topics: Consumer culture, Entertainment, Fashion, Fiction, Gender studies, Health and fitness, Masculinity, Men's history, Popular culture, and Social history. On the right side, there is a "Want to Learn More?" section with links to "Search the online Help", "Discover answers to common questions at ProQuest's Product Support Center", and "Contact Support if you need further assistance". Below this is a "Search tip" section stating: "By default, we will look for documents with all the terms entered. Use 'quotation marks' to search for exact phrases."
